Use of colour

Feedback from members suggests that the extra expenditure on colour pages has been very worthwhile. Apart from enhancing the general look of the publication, this has enabled us to include not only photographs which members have taken the trouble to send in but also the attractive sketch-maps so kindly provided by Clive Inman.

Thanks

The editors are indebted to all contributors for the informative, thought-provoking and humorous articles which they have submitted.

Reminder

Items for the January issue are now due - deadline November 15th.
